

Airport Commission Meeting Notes

4/23/2019

The Russellville Regional Airport Commission recently held it's monthly meeting. Airport Director Keith Frazier reported that Year-to-Date fuel volume on sales was at 16,754 gallons which is a 2.2% increase over March of 2018. Self-Sufficiency for March was at 66.12%

In Old Business the Commission discussed hangar development and drafting a proposal to submit to Mayor Harris for his review and discussion.

The Commission also heard updates from Director Frazier about placing the utility lines on South Elmira underground to make approaches and departures on the West end of the runway safer for pilots.

Frazier also updated the Commission of the status of the upcoming Airport Improvement grant for the runway overlay and lighting project. Frazier stated that the plans have been submitted to the FAA for their review and approval and once the plans were approved the project would then go out for bids.

In New Business the Commission discussed the current webpage and its integration with the city's website. It was suggested that updated information for the Commission, updated pictures and events, fuel pricing and links to local places of interests and things to do in Russellville.

The Commission also approved starting the process of seeking grant funding from the Arkansas Department of Aeronautics for the construction of new hangars at the airport. Director Frazier stated that right now there are four individuals that are on a waiting list for hangars and that the airport receive calls frequently from interested parties inquiring about hangar space availability at the airport.

In other business Director Frazier stated the airport will be hosting a Fly-In on June 22nd from 11 am to 2 pm. This will be a "Pickin' and Grinnin'" Fly-In with live music and participants will be encouraged to bring their favorite musical instruments and play. The event is also open to the public.

Food and refreshments will be available.
